Trumbull Makes Money Magazine's Top 100 Best Places to Live

Trumbull, (July 17, 2007) – Trumbull ranks 68th among the top 100 places to live, according to Money Magazine. For this year's list CNN's Money focused on smaller places that offered the best combination of economic opportunity, good schools, safe streets, things to do and a real sense of community. Trumbull particularly excels in the area of quality of life, safety, and community involvement. First Selectman Raymond Baldwin Jr. stated, "It is wonderful that the town and the community have gained national recognition for being among the best places in the country to live. There is a lot for residents and workers to feel good about here."

Trumbull is one of Connecticut's safest towns to live in and public well-being and safety is of utmost importance in our community. Trumbull's police, EMS, and fire officials work in partnership to ensure the highest standards of protection and safety in the community.

The town of Trumbull offers an excellent school system and a wealth of educational resources both within the town as well as from nearby universities.

With 1,200 acres of town land set aside for recreational areas and open space, Trumbull provides the most open space per capita in the state. Residents can enjoy both an 18-hole championship golf course or a 9-hole beautiful executive golf course; more than 20 tennis courts; basketball and volleyball courts, two public and two private natural swimming areas; outdoor swimming pools, hiking trails, playgrounds, and numerous lacrosse, baseball and soccer fields.

Trumbull's active arts council sponsors cultural programs, and an annual arts festival, as well as free outdoor concerts throughout the summer. The town also has a nature and arts center, a town youth association, and a senior center. Neighboring towns offer a number of museums, theaters, concerts and major sporting events within a short driving distance. Community and social involvement is pervasive in town with hundreds of clubs, organizations, and school activities to connect with or join.

Trumbull's modern, spacious library serves both as a business resource center as well as a family community center offering book discussions, movies, book discussions, writing workshops, music programs and business lectures.

Baldwin concluded, "Trumbull is a great place to live, work, and play, and I'm delighted that we've gained national acclaim for our great community."
